

SCHOOL COST HERE HIGHEST IN STATE

Interesting Figures Given
Out by State Superintendent.

POOR H. S. SHOWING

Principal Gets Less Than Others; Per Capita Expenses Bigger.

The superintendent of schools in Tulsa gets as large a salary as any principal official in Oklahoma, but the principal of the high school here is underpaid in comparison with other cities in the state, according to figures contained in a comprehensive report issued by State Superintendent of Public Instruction R. H. Wilson.

The report covers the city schools of the state and is the first of the kind ever compiled.

The per capita cost of educating pupils in the public schools of Tulsa is greater than any other city in Oklahoma, according to the report.

The report is for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915, and does not include the enrollment or statistics for the present term. In a measure this is an injustice to Tulsa, as the schools here have shown a bigger increase over last year than any other community in Oklahoma.

Two Get $2,600.

Supt. E. E. Oberholzer of the local school system receives an annual salary of $2,600. Supt. G. V. Buchanan of Oklahoma City gets a similar salary, while E. S. Monroe, superintendent at Muskogee, draws $3,500 a year. The next highest salary is received by the superintendent at Ardmore, who gets $2,500 a year. In Bartlesville, Okmulgee and Guthrie the salary is $2,400.

F. J. Katz, who has been principal of the local high school for nearly eight years, receives less salary than the principals at other Oklahoma City or Muskogee. Professor Katz gets $1,900 a year, as compared with $2,350 for J. G. Masters at Oklahoma City, who has served three years, and $2,400 for L. W. Weathersex at Muskogee, who is in his sixth year. Professor Masters was for a number of years superintendent of the Tulsa city schools and now has charge of the biggest high school in the state, although he receives less salary than the principal at Muskogee, where the enrollment is about the same as in Tulsa.

Don't Count New Ones.

The report shows that Tulsa and Muskogee each have 12 buildings, while Oklahoma City has 21 structures. The six or eight new buildings now being completed here are not included in the report, nor are the numerous "movable" school houses that have taken care of the overflow at various schools.

The number of eighth grade graduates for one year in the three principal cities of the state are as follows:

Oklahoma City ..... 560
Tulsa ..... 123
Muskogee ..... 102

The high school graduates for one year are reported as follows:

Oklahoma City ..... 178
Muskogee ..... 86
Tulsa ..... 68

The foregoing figures show that at

THE SMALLEST BABY.

CLINTON, Mo., Nov. 12.—What is believed to be one of the smallest babies in the world is that of Delma Gentry and wife of Clinton. The child was born on September 16 and at birth weighed one pound and could be placed in a quart cup without crowding.

At six weeks of age the baby measured one foot in length and at present its mother's wedding ring will slip over its arm to the shoulder. The smallest ring that could be found in the jewelry stores fits loosely over two fingers together of the tiny hand.

The physician who has attended the child since its birth says it is healthy and gaining daily in strength. The parents are of normal height and weigh about 110 pounds each.

though Tulsa has a larger number of eighth grade graduates each year than Muskogee, the latter city has more high school graduates than Tulsa. This curious state of affairs can possibly be attributed to the fact that Oklahoma City and Muskogee both possess modern high school plans, completed in recent years, while Tulsa has been getting along with an antiquated structure, hardly suitable for common school purposes. Within another year, however, this city can boast of a splendid $100,000 high school building, as fine as any in the southwest, as the site has been purchased, the money voted and the plans completed.

The per capita cost of educating children here is far greater than at Oklahoma City or Muskogee. The comparative figures follow:

Grade ..... H. S.
Oklahoma City ..... $30.66 ..... $50.21
Muskogee ..... 29.98 ..... 70.19
Tulsa ..... 45.50 ..... 70.71

The grade school enrollment last year is given as follows:

Oklahoma City ..... 5,324
Muskogee ..... 3,104
Tulsa ..... 1,752

The high school enrollment for the three cities is as follows:

Oklahoma City ..... 1,752
Muskogee ..... 628
Tulsa ..... 571

The average salary paid to eighth grade teachers here is $80 a month, as compared with $83.25 at Oklahoma City and $74.27 at Muskogee. The average salaries in the other grades run in about the same proportion, with the exception of the high school, where Tulsa is below both of the other cities in nearly every instance.

Would Divorce Man She Failed To Make Better

Special to The World.

MUSKOGEE, Nov. 13.—Viola Jennings couldn't make good in her self-imposed task of making a better man out of Andrew Jennings.

Six months ago the girl, then Viola Adams, faced Justice of the Peace W. G. Miller here and pleaded for a chance to reform Andrew Jennings, a wealthy young Indian.

"I love him, judge," she said, "and he loves me. Give me a chance and I'll make a better man of him."

At that time there was a cattle stealing charge pending against Jennings. Why there should ever be even a suspicion of a charge against Jennings, officers cannot understand. A Cherokee Indian, he owns a valuable allotment, and when his father died recently he left him about $25,000. But the boy has been in frequent trouble.

The girl, Viola Adams, was of a different stamp and office decided to give her a chance. The charge against Jennings was not pressed, but it was not dropped.

That was six months ago. Yesterday the girl filed her divorce petition in the district court. She set out that her young husband told her to pay her parents a visit, but that after she left his home he refused to write to her, and even to talk to her when she called him by long distance telephone. She finally returned, she says, to find her husband in the act of selling the piano and other household furniture.

Mrs. Jennings asks for $50 a month alimony.

MIAMI, Okla., Nov. 13.—The Golden Rod mine, east of Cardin and south of Picher and surrounded at all points of the compass by mills, mines, shafts and drills, is making rapid progress. David M. Hammett, a prominent Tulsa millionaire oil operator, is president of the company owning the Golden Rod mine which operates on a 40-acre Cardin tract. The equipment of this mine is the best that manufacturers are making and no sooner had the drill cuttings showed they had over three selected sites, than shaft work was

Says Woman's Beauty Depends Upon Health

Health and Vigor Necessitates Regulation of Organs of Elimination.

Skin foods and face creams and powders cannot make a woman beautiful, because beauty lies deeper than that—it depends on health. In most cases the basis of health and the cause of sickness can be traced to the action of the bowels.

The headache, the lassitude, the sallow skin, and the lusterless eyes are usually caused by constipation. An ideal remedy for women, and one that is especially suited to their delicate organism, is found in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a mild laxative compound, pleasant to the taste and free from opiates and narcotic drugs of every description. Mrs. Gertrude Jordan, 522 North Liberty St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: "It is simply fine. I have never been able to find anything to compare with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I started using it for the baby and now it is my family standby in all cases where a laxative is needed."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle; a trial bottle can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. R. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

At Last Viscount Morley, Silent for Months, Speaks in Tones of Criticism of the House of Lords

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 13.—When the Marquess of Crewe told the house of lords yesterday that he could not speak on foreign affairs with the first-hand knowledge possessed by Sir Edward Grey and advised the noble lords to attend the gallery of the other house if they wished to hear the forthcoming announcement on Balkan affairs, his suggestion was sufficient to draw from Viscount Morley the first public utterance of any sort that he has made since war broke out, when he, with John Burns and Sir George Trevelyan, withdrew from the cabinet.

Lord Morley broke his long silence yesterday with the observation that the suggestion amounted to reducing the system to a single chamber government.

"What is this house for if on occasions of such enormous importance started and still continues at top speed. With the great closed shop shift work, they closed a contract for a modern mill for two hundred ton capacity. They have brought the mains of the Consumers Gas company to their property and are now getting fuel supply from that source. The Golden Rod mine already have three drill holes into ore at a depth of 200 to 225 feet, with indications of a 25-foot face and with values reported to be equal to the average of the Cardin-Pitcher rich fields. Their first shaft is now near the one hundred foot level.

Their first shaft is now near the one hundred foot level.

WHEAT BENEFITED BY RAIN.

Ottawa County Crop Got Thorough Drenching During the Past Week.

Special to The World.

AFTON, Okla., Nov. 13.—Thursday Ottawa county got a good rain that has been very greatly needed for the last two weeks. Wheat now looks extra good since the rain and never looked better at this time of the year than it does this year. Quite a large acreage of wheat has been planted this fall and a few farmers are still planting wheat even this late. The rain has settled the dust which has been very bad on account of so much travel and so many farmers bringing their corn to the market.

M. W. A. TO HAVE MEETING.

Mammoth Log-Rolling Will Be Held in McAlester Next Thursday.

Special to The World.

MALESTER, Nov. 13.—Two thousand Modern Woodmen of America are expected in McAlester next Thursday to attend a mammoth log-rolling which is to feature the initiation of a class of five hundred new Woodmen. A. R. Talbot of Lincoln, Neb., head consul of the order, is expected to attend.

Only a Peanut Vendor.

It does not do to jump to conclusions. A witness was being examined in an important case, and his testimony was conclusive. So the lawyer for the outside undertook to make him an object for ridicule.

"You are a business man, I believe."

"Yes, sir."

"What is your business?"

"I deal in peanuts."

The lawyer smiled knowingly at the jury.

"A peanut vendor, eh? How many pints did you sell last month?"

"I hardly know. A million, perhaps."

"What?"

"I handle about a million bushels a year. I am a wholesale dealer."

The lawyer sat down. He had forgotten that the peanut crop is the source of riches to many southern farmers, and that the annual trade in the humble "goober" foots up $10,000,000!

FIRST FROST AT AFTON.

Special to The World.

AFTON, Okla., Nov. 13.—Afton had the first real frost this season last night and it was a good one, so heavy that it looked like a light snow had fallen. Everything has been growing here and many second crops of berries and garden products have been grown and marketed in this vicinity. Last night's frost was a real one and undoubtedly killed all of the light forage in the country.

NO MORE 'SCHNAPS' FOR THE GERMANS

Restriction of the Trade Already Is in Force.

"CONSERVE SUPPLY"

Many of the Small Dealers
Will Close Their Shops.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The restrictions regarding the sale of distilled liquors in greater Berlin, which were proposed in August by Police President von Jagow to the government authorities, have gone into effect. They are so drastic that landlords and distillers are in despair, and the general public feels that the sale in "schnaps" and similar drinks is to be very largely curtailed.

The rules now laid down forbid the sale of distilled liquor except between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m.—the sale in restaurants having women waitresses and bar mads—the sale in "automat" restaurants and the sale to drunken persons. The liquor may be sold only for cash and must be drunk on the premises.

Only casual examinations of the new rules does not reveal how drastic they are. Relatively few persons because of the late working and eating hours in Berlin, have either desire or opportunity to indulge in spirituous liquors until after the new closing hour.

Secondly, scores of reputable restaurants and cafes now have female employees in place of the waiters who have been drawn into the army, and therefore these cafes are barred from making their former profitable sales.

Drink On Premises.

Thirdly, the provision that the liquor may be drunk only on the premises is a blow to the bottle trade that heretofore has assumed considerable proportions, especially in the less pretentious cafes and saloons. Practically the only provision to which there is no objection is that governing sales to drunken persons.

President von Jagow's suggestion enant the restriction of distilled liquors included the provision that none should be sold after 7 p. m., and that only liquor of a comparatively high grade and cost might be dispensed.

The distillers and liquor dealers breathed easier when they heard that the authorities did not favor anything so drastic, but all their hopes vanished when the authorities finally did make public their new regulations. It is asserted on every side that many cafes that do not specialize in beer—the so-called "wine rooms"—will now have to close at 9 instead of at 11 o'clock, and that many of them will have to go out of business.

These cafe proprietors allege that they cannot understand the new order nor the reasons for it. For months now it has been forbidden to serve soldiers or sailors with distilled liquors, and they say that therefore there is no military need for the rules. They maintain that there is a great sufficiency of liquor for army, medicinal and hospital needs, now on hand, so that there is no necessity for extra measures to conserve the supply in this drastic way. Also, they assert with the utmost positiveness that Berlin suffers not at all from any undue indulgence in liquor which would require correction through restriction of the supply.
